A Rewarding Role - In More Ways Than One

In addition to your salary of $125,965 - $130,458, your important work will be rewarded with generous benefits, including salary packaging, five weeks of annual leave, and ongoing learning and development opportunities.

Relocation assistance will also be negotiable for the right candidate.

What You'll Bring to the Team

You will be a systems-minded, empathetic individual, ideally with a minimum of five years of experience in coordinating the delivery of services in a community services organisation or related industry.

You will use your thorough understanding of the child protection system and experience with complex program management to make a difference in the lives of children and young people in crisis, exercising emotional intelligence as necessary to mitigate conflict.

A tertiary qualification in social work or community development will be required, however, candidates with a bachelor's degree in business or management where combined with relevant experience in adjacent sectors are encouraged to apply.

This is a highly rewarding opportunity to directly impact the lives of vulnerable children and those impacted by family and domestic violence. Apply now.
