Full job description

Your new company

Our clients are well-respected organisations that facilitate quality maintenance work on remote camp sites in South Australia. Due to busy periods and increasing workloads we are there are opportunities to join our casual pool of A Class Electricians (South Australian Licensed) and fully qualified Refrigeration Technicians.

These roles are available on a 14 day on 7 day off roster or a 13 day on 8 day off roster the roles would suit qualified trades people living in Adelaide who have flexibility in their availability.

Your new role

These roles will see you providing maintenance support across remote campsites and will require highly skilled and fully qualified South Australian licenced A Class Electricians. You will be confident across fault finding and inspections, with a mixture of domestic and commercial electrical maintenance work involved.

What you'll need to succeed

Successful applicants must have current South Australian qualifications and be MUST be based in South Australia (being based in close proximity to Adelaide airport would be highly advantageous).

Regular swings are available for candidates who are looking for longer term opportunities.

It will be highly advantageous if you have a current police check (dated within the last 6 months). Shortlisted applicants will be required to meet employment criteria that include but not limited to a full pre-employment medical with a drug and alcohol test, you will also have to complete online inductions before you can fly to a remote site.

All accommodation food and flights to and from site are paid for but candidates will have to provide their own hand tools on site as well as steel toe cap boots.
